

Season of 1888-89 A Winter in California Nine Trips Across the Continent, with Many New and Attractive Features

By W. Raymond

General Books. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 62 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.1in. This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1888 Excerpt: . . . between Covington and Newport. The entrance to the great suspension bridge is between Walnut and Vine streets. The Post Office and Custom House are in a handsome block on Fountain square; the Masonic Temple, at the corner of Walnut and Third streets; the Public Library, on the west side of Vine street, between Sixth and Seventh streets; and the Springer Music Hall, Exposition buildings, and College of Music, on Elm street, opposite Washington Park. The Emery Arcade, which resembles the Galerie St. Hubert in Brussels, extends from Vine street to Race between Fourth and Fifth. The Hotel Emery opens therefrom. Eden Park, comprising 206 acres, contains a splendid Art Museum. This may be reached by the Eden Park horse cars, which go up the Mt. Adams (Highland House) inclined plane, or the Gilbert avenue cable-car line, the former being the more direct. Both start from...

READ ONLINE
[6.39 MB]

Reviews

Absolutely essential go through book. It can be rally fascinating throgh studying period of time. You wont truly feel monotony at at any time of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for concerning in the event you question me).

-- Roberto Leannon

This sort of publication is everything and made me seeking forward and much more. Better then never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. I am easily could possibly get a delight of reading through a created pdf.

-- Quinton Balistreri